Award type: Thank you

Behaviors/values: Executing speedily

Personal message:

Dear Saaish, I would like to thank you for your great commitment and efforts and speed in your every day work.

I feel your function is very crucial for the team. Your knowledge, willing to learn more, and your humble personality make you a truley good and important cooworker. Im happy to have you in the team, and Im really happy to see your transparancy when you pick up a new task, and try to find your ways on own, to complete it. Also Im greatfull that you take your time and try to provide me technical skills. We had one session and will have hopefully more.

What two or three things do I do that make me most effective?

*Your curiosity personality
Your Just do it attitude
Eager to learn*

What new skills or behaviors would make me even more effective?

*Learn the Cloud Native aspects of true DevOPS.
Drive your ideas on how vCU/Clod RAN can improve in CI/CD DevOPS even on CR Level if needed*

What other comments do you have to aid in my personal insight and development?

I think you should continue with the positive and just do attitude that you have!!!

Hello Saaish,

Its time for me to provide some feedback based on the recent time.

1. I think you have managed the work progress of the summer interns in a very good way, especially during summer vacation time. I was providing a few improvement suggestions in demo that was held week 29 and its really fun to see those are handled already. Great coordination work on this item, and Im so impressed by the work they have done.
2. Also would like to provide you feedback for the monitoring part during the summer vacation especially on week 28 where you were driving the switch move/incident and worked it along with team Maple till it was resolved.
3. I think you have done a great work even about the Proof of Concept which you were involved for the 4.12 on Staging part and did all testing along with Colleen's tight cooperation and feedback. I have talked to Per Wennman and he will send us a OneNote space and I appreciate that in there, you would list all the issues we discussed on todays meeting with Colleen.

Thanks again for your all great efforts, especially during the summer

Best Regards

/Farid
